

Natali represents numerous national and international insurance and reinsurance companies in direct insurance coverage and reinsurance disputes. Natali provides comprehensive analysis of coverage issues involving various policies, including commercial general liability, professional liability, property, disability, and reinsurance. She advises on complex matters including the duty to defend, bad faith exposure, rescission, and recoupment of defense costs. Natali represents insurers in coverage disputes arising from property damage, bodily injury, sexual misconduct, bad faith, discrimination, and professional liability.

Natali has also represented insureds in direct defense matters arising out of personal injury, professional malpractice, and wrongful death. She has successfully tried on her own 12 jury trials in Cook County with results of no liability.

Before joining BatesCarey, Natali worked at two major insurers handling direct defense and subrogation matters. Natali has also represented corporations outside of the insurance industry in general litigation matters, including breach of contract litigation.
